History Täbys History

A district inhabited since the Bronze Age, famous and renowned during the Viking Era. Then during the next 800 years, a farmer's parish, and in the early 1900s added communities around several railway stations. As of 1950, it developed into a suburb of Stockholm.

Täby's history goes way back, and many of the 37 Runic engravings exist in the area which are evidence of Viking life. The most famous Viking was "Jarlabanke" - a farmer's chief who said they "take the whole of Täby."

Fishing

Fishing is available in three fishing areas and controlled by the area fishing associations. Each "fiskevårdsområde" (Fishing Association) has its own board and controls fishing regulations and the stockage.

Täby Fishing Association

The largest area for the Täby Fishing Organizations includes Lakes Ullnasjön, Gullsjön, Käringsjön, Mörtsjön, Ullnabäcken and a part of the large Lake Värtan. The lakes are rented by the Anglers Stockholm District and fishing clubs, thereby accounting for the expert stocks of fish. To fish in the Täby Association's four lakes, you need an Anglers Sport Fishing card which is also valid for an additional 40 lakes throughout the county. The card costs 250 Kronor per year or a day card costs 50 Kronor and can be purchased at "Sportfiskeboden" (both are family cards). For children up to 15 years, it is free to fish with a Junior Fishing Card.

Lake Rönningesjöns Fishing Association

A fishing license for Lake Rönningesjön cost 200 Kronor per year (family). Day cards cost 50 Kronor. A yearly card for children up to 15 years cost 50 dollars.

Lake Vallentunasjöns Fishing Association

Lake Vallentunasjöns fishing license is available as a biannual card or daily card. Biannual cards are valid from June 1, until December 31. Price 200 Kronor. Daily cards do not apply during the period from January 1 to June 1. Price 35 Kronor. Children under 16 can fish free. Lake Vallentunasjön is closed until 31 May 2006, and also from January 1 to May 31, 2007.

Large Lake Värtan

In the case of the Lake Värtan, handheld line fishing is free. On the waters of the archipelago in Lake Mälaren, a TDA-card for trolling / drag rod / angling are available in several different forms and different prices.

The Hembygdsmuseet Museum in Rönninge, is housed in warehouses from the 1800's. The old building is decorated with showrooms on the two bottom floors, while on the top floor is used for self storage.

The museum has sought to reproduce the environment, showing how it was in Täby at the beginning of this century, when residential district began to buildup. The exhibition is divided into one of more permanent character, and one to show the current activities in Täby. The latter exhibition can also accommodate theme and touring exhibitions. In the small shop, you can souvenirs and caramel cones.

For visitors, please do not disturb the wildlife, nature, or cycle on walking or jogging tracks. Dogs must be kept on a leash.

Runriket

In the area around Lake Vallentunasjön, are unusually numerous Viking Rune Stones. Nowhere else in the world are there so many different "runinskrifter" (rock engravings) than right here! We call this Runriket. Here you can experience history on their own beautiful landscape.

Parks

Parks

Täby has many beautiful parks and nature reserves. Along the streets small parks with lush greenery, decorated roundabouts and avenues.

grass area for sports.

Worth Seeing

Karby gård

Karby Manor is Täbys Arts Center for the general public. In the main building, there are a dozen exhibitions each year, with both local artists by artists from all around the country. There is also a Graphic Workshop and a cafe. In the west wing is an art gallery boutique, screen gallery and art library. We host a popular Christmas market every year. Sweden's National Day on June 6, is celebrated with music and dancing in the park. The park has a bandstand and a herb garden.

Näsby Castle

Näsby Castle was built around 1660 by the drawings of Nicodemus Tessin "the elder". The castle burnt down in 1897, but five years later was rebuilt by its new owner Carl Robert Lamm using the original drawings. However, the old stables from 1665, are preserved, one of Täbys oldest secular buildings. The castle is beautifully located along Näsbyvikens beach.

Runborg (Sailors Cottage) in Täby Church Village

In the Täby Church Village, just north of Jarlabankes Bridge is the sailors cottage called "Runborg" from the 1700s and is now a museum. The house shows what it must have been like for a sailors family in the 1800s.

Rönninge Village

Rönninge Village along Lake Rönningesjöns eastern shore, is a living village, where you can see how everyday was for them about 100 years ago. Here is the "Hembygdsföreningens", (Home District Association Museum) where you can see how it was to live in Täby around the turn of the century.

The animals are mainly Swedish animals, such as Nordic Swedish horses, Gotland ponies and Swedish cattle. Here is also Täbys last cow-barn with dairy cows, sheep, goats, pigs, chickens and rabbits.

Täby Church

Täby church was built in the mid 1200s. Today's church is guessed to have had a predecessor made of wood. Jarlabankes Manor could have been in about the same place where the church is today. The sacristy was added during the 1300's and after a fire in mid-1400's the wood was replaced with brick. At the same time, a weapons house was built. In the 1400's, two parts of a Rune Stone, on the weapons house wall, tells that Holme died in Italy. Täby church is one of the nine top tourist attractions around Runriket.

Täby Thoroughbred Racing

Each year, Täby Thoroughbred Horse Racing arranges about 100 days of racing with various themes. We have 20 personnel which are responsible for the well-run and attractive facility. During the racing days, we have an additional 50 temporary employees to ensure the competitions are conducted in a professional manner. About 25 trainers operate the daily training at the track and at the training facilities in Angarn and Tacurong. Swedish Horse Racing is the head organization for Thoroughbred racing in Sweden and is located in the Equestrian House. Each year, there are about 400 races and around 35 Million Kronor handed out in prize money. Täby Thoroughbred Horse Racing turnover of around 55 Million Kronor in addition to prize money.
